

SENATE WILL ACT AT ONCE ON CABINET NOMINATIONS

Bryan and Other Members of Wilson's Official Family at White House.

CRANE IS THERE TOO

Secretary of State Loses His Way the First Thing in Washington.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—President Wilson arose early today and breakfasted in the private dining room of the White House with Mrs. Wilson and their daughters. Shortly after 9 o'clock he left the mansion and walked through the bright sunshine to his office to take up the business of the nation. His first caller was Mr. Crane, of Chicago, and while they were talking members of the new cabinet arrived.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels was the first and he was followed by the new secretary of war, Lindley M. Garrison, William B. Wilson, the first secretary of labor; William Jennings Bryan, the new secretary of state; Franklin K. Lane, who quits the chairmanship of the interstate commerce commission, to become secretary of agriculture; Albert S. Burleson, who gives up a place in the House to be postmaster general; William B. Redfield, another member of Congress, who becomes secretary of commerce, and James C. McReynolds, the attorney general. William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, was the last. The nominations of all were to go to the Senate at once.

Mr. Bryan was the center of a group as soon as he set his foot into the executive office. When he left the cabinet meeting and went over to the state department he hesitated after leaving the White House and started for the navy department, but was intercepted. Mr. Knox greeted his successor.

The new Senate convened at 12:21 to receive President Wilson's cabinet nominations, but there was a delay in getting them to the White House. So a recess was taken until 2 o'clock when the Senate went into executive session.

When Their Little Torpedo Boat is Rammed by a Cruiser.

(By Associated Press.)

HELGOLAND, Germany, Mar. 5.—Sixty-six of the crew of the German torpedo boat destroyer, S. 178, were drowned when the little vessel was rammed by the cruiser, York, in the North sea last night.

Among the dead are the commander of the torpedo boat, Lieutenant Koch, and his first officer. The surgeon, the engineer and fifteen of the crew were saved. The torpedo boat sank immediately.

PLAY FAIRMONT.

The Scholastic second basketball team will go to Fairmont Wednesday evening where it will clash with the Students team of the Young Men's Christian Association. These two teams played here several weeks ago and the Scholastics were victorious. The Fairmonters hope to even things up tonight by defeating them. A large number of local fans will make the trip with the team.

SUNDAY SALOONS

Are Wanted by the People of the City of New York.

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—The Wagner legislative committee investigating police conditions here today was told by Edward D. Page testifying as a representative of the Merchants' Association that the people of New York do not want the saloons closed on Sunday. "The people are not in sympathy with the restrictions of selling of liquor on Sunday," Mr. Page said. "The population of the city has grown greatly and there is no public opinion in favor of the enforcement of the Sunday closing laws."

GOFF

Is Sworn in as a New Senator from the State of West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—When the formality of swearing in United States senators recently elected in the several states for the six year term beginning yesterday, took place at noon, Judge Nathan Goff, the new senator from West Virginia, was among them. Judge Goff, white-haired and commanding in appearance, though rather under the average stature, attracted much attention from the senate galleries, which were crowded for the inauguration of Vice President Marshall. Many West Virginians were on hand, and of these a number tendered their congratulations to West Virginia's new senator.

ONE FELONY

Indictment is the Only One Returned in Grand Jury's First Report.

In its first report the criminal court grand jury returned one indictment Wednesday morning. It is a felony against James Shars, accused of burglary at the store of Harvey Wolfe.

Okey Boston, held for the grand jury, was ordered released from jail.

So-called slot machines are under consideration of the grand jury and a large number of witnesses has been summoned from the suburbs to testify on the question.

DEFENSE

Of Big Combine in An Ouster Case against It is Now Begun.

(By Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Neb., Mar. 5.—The International Harvester Company today began its defense before the special examiners in the government suit charging violation of the Sherman law. The defense eliminated the services of a judge and substituted as examiner a stenographer, empowered with the right of administering oaths. With 125 witnesses to hear the defense expects to occupy two weeks taking testimony in this city.

RIOTOUS CONDUCT FOLLOWS INAUGURAL AS PEOPLE DEPART

Troops Are Sent to the Scene to Aid the City Police Force.

MANY WOMEN FAINT

Wrong Trains Are Taken by Many in the Rush to Get Away.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—The national capital with its next morning headache awoke today to find the streets littered with debris after the inauguration. Workmen are engaged in tearing down the stands and decorations and visitors were filtering out like the sand in an hour glass. Thousands already are homeward bound.

Riotous scenes attended the exodus in the early hours of the day. Tired and impatient travelers at the Union station rushed the thin line of police, brushed them aside and tore down the gates that lead to the train shed. Subsequently efforts to dislodge them were futile. As a result many boarded the wrong trains. The scenes in the station were tumultuous. State troops and bands made the building resound with the blares of the bands. Women fainted in the crush.

The supply of drinking water could not be utilized freely because of the law against the use of the common drinking cup.

Some genius with the butt of his mustek smashed into fragments the glass front of the container of individual drinking cups and his example was quickly followed by the people.

KENTUCKY HAS A REAL WOMAN JUDGE; WITH GREAT DIGNITY HEARS FIRST CASE

U. S. Commissioner Mabel Van Dyke Bell.

Women have crowded into every profession and now at last we have a woman judge. Mrs. Van Dyke Bell, of Covington, Ky., isn't exactly a judge. Her position as United States commissioner requires her, however, to fill the position of judge in preliminary hearings. She heard her first case a few days ago at Covington, and presided with solemn dignity. Mrs. Van Dyke is married, is of the home loving kind, and has two children attending school.

JUBILEE AFFAIR QUITE BRILLIANT

Parsons - Souders Company Celebrates Tenth Anniversary in Elaborate Way.

Marking the tenth anniversary of itself, the Parsons Souders Company is celebrating at its large department stores today in regal style. Thousands of patrons are participating in the celebration with much pleasure and the success of the event is all that anyone could desire, most gratifying, indeed, is it to the company, the men in charge of the stores and the large number of lady and other salesmen. This popular concern's numerous patrons are infinitely pleased, too.

Although the weather is not all that is to be desired, it has not deterred throngs from constantly visiting the store from the hour of opening. Elaborate new lines of spring goods are most pleasing to the eye. The interior of the stores is most artistic and everything is so new and fresh that the air of spring permeates every part of the establishment. Emblematic in every way is it of spring, the pleasantest period of the year, with new life springing up.

A feature of the afternoon was a splendid musical program and the serving of dainty refreshments with Mrs. L. E. Peters in charge.

Crowds will continue to visit, inspect and congratulate until the closing hour today and all will be assured from personal observation that there is a perfect palace for the spring time here.

The great jubilee opened at 8 o'clock last night. Previous to the sounding of bugles within, hundreds gathered in front of the place and profusely expressed admiration for the rare artistic beauty the decorated windows furnished.

As soon as the doors opened hundreds poured into the decorated expanse of the House of Fashions and before very long the stores were crowded to the very limit. What they saw was a panorama of the lines of goods carried.

The Cadenza orchestra played a program of special music and Leland Davis of the orchestra sang several solos.

Mrs. Martha Furbee, who had been visiting friends in the city for the last three weeks, went to Parkersburg Wednesday evening to spend several days with her mother, before leaving for Springfield, Ill., where she will spend the summer.

OFFICE SEEKERS NOT TO SEE HIM

President Wilson Says Except Those He Personally Invites.

MOST APPLICATIONS

For Appointment Must Come through the Various Departments.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—In the first statement he has issued from the White House, President Wilson announced today that he would decline to see applicants for office in person except those he invited. He issued a statement today declaring that the applicants would have to address themselves to the head of the different governmental departments unless he sent for them. The statement follows:

"The president regrets that he is obliged to announce that he deems it his duty to decline to see applicants for office, except when he himself invites the interview. It is his purpose and desire to devote his attention very earnestly and very constantly to the business of the government, and the large questions of policy affecting the whole nation. It is his intention to deal with the appointments through the heads of the several executive departments."

President Wilson's first official act today was to acknowledge receipt of the resignation of the Taft cabinet and of the assistant secretaries of the various departments, though the assistant secretaries will not detach themselves immediately their places will be filled with new men within a short time.

While the president expects to send to the Senate today his nominations for the cabinet, he will delay the announcement of the selection of the assistant secretaries.
